MISSOULA STUDENTS ACCEPTED TO UM LAW SCHOOL

MISSOULA --

Sixteen students from Missoula entered The University of Montana—Missoula School of Law this fall.

The students, chosen from an applicant pool of nearly 500, are: Kara Kawaguchi Adkins, David Avery, Ilka Becker, Kerry Lee Berg, Cindy Cate, Dave Christensen, Shelli Crepeau, Katie DeSoto, Craig Eddy, Jolyn Eggart, Scott Fisk, Kim Neeley, Philip Schmook, Jolie Shively, Matt Tourtlotte and Laura Vachowski. They are among 80 students entering the class of 1999.

Founded in 1911, UM's law school has drawn national recognition for its effective integration of legal theory and practice into its curriculum. Students are required to apply their book knowledge and hands-on experiences, Law Dean E. Edwin Eck said.

"University of Montana students not only study the theory of contract law, corporate law, and estate planning law, they also apply their knowledge by drafting contracts, creating corporations, and preparing and probating wills," he said.
